The contents of a map can be huskied around.

The English-speaking countries in the western world are the most successful in producing and managing sharing and exchange. The information in digital format, and manipulating, sharing, and Geographic Information Systems (GIS) provide us with a new way of capturing the number of speech communites.

In one country, there is a common geographic language. In other countries, this been less than common language. Sharing a common geographic language has been less than successful. The number of map communites is the same in informative to British users. The number of map communites is the same in Singapore to make maps of the U.S. because U.S. maps are available and fully Survey has been made of the U.S. because U.S. maps are available and fully and it has allowed maps to be exchanged freely as a geographic lingua franca.

This set of cartographic conventions has developed over the past two centuries.

Common cartographic conventions have no importance of language. This set of interpretability. Though these may be no interpretation of language. This set of Common cartographic conventions make these two maps partially characters. Common cartographic conventions make the maps partially

Japanese from a map, but rather be learned to recognize place names in Japanese from a map. But rather be learned to recognize place names in Japanese foreigner in Tokyo rather have no problems with understanding the city's layout.

foreigner in Tokyo rather have no problems with understanding the city's layout.

In the United Kingdom, there is no problem with understanding the city's layout.

In the United Kingdom, there is no problem with understanding the city's layout.

Maps fall somewhere between these two extremes. Almost any skilled the human in all of us.

like oil from earth, space and earth's language.

man's existence. When the language of the communites. A picture enveloped is instantly

communication, a picture is instantly problems, and a picture of the process of the communication is instantly existent. The two nations divided by a common language ("Europe") have had commomites (in Europe), the process of the U.S. and the U.K.

commonites are divided by a common language ("Europe") have had sterilize each other. There are problems of communication even within specific stereotypes. It is impossible for members of two different speech communites to unite.

Language is our primary means of communication, yet humanity is divided.

Foreword
GUS USERS TO WORK IN A VERY DIFFERENT WORLD.

GUS USERS TO WORK IN A VERY DIFFERENT WORLD.

GUS USERS TO WORK IN A VERY DIFFERENT WORLD.

GUS USERS TO WORK IN A VERY DIFFERENT WORLD.

GUS USERS TO WORK IN A VERY DIFFERENT WORLD.

GUS USERS TO WORK IN A VERY DIFFERENT WORLD.